YES ENERGY

UNLOCKING REAL-TIME, CUSTOMIZABLE AND COMPETITIVE POWER MARKET INSIGHTS

QUICK SIGNALS™

QUICKSIGNALS

In nodal power markets, everything can change in a second. In this quick-moving and volatile environment, Real-time traders and asset operators need quick data that keeps them ahead of the markets.

Yes Energy's QuickSignals product translates market noise into timely, actionable, and customizable insight. QuickSignals allows you to configure custom dashboards highlighting the data points you care about in your decision to enter or exit a position. Low-latency data delivery straight to your dashboard allows you to stay on top of market opportunities as they materialize in real-time. Additionally, QuickSignals includes pre-built widgets like tickers for prices and constraints, live load curves, volatility indicators, and time-series graphs. Watchlists and customizable alert conditions including format and frequency allow you to keep a pulse on the market components that matter most to you. QuickSignals is integrated with our PowerSignals solution, making it easy to drill down from a single tick in your QuickSignals dashboard to the robust history and analytics available in PowerSignals.
